DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claim 5 is provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8 of copending Application No. 10/922037. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both teach a semiconductor device comprising a chip, substrate, pads and interconnect material comprising a ternary alloy of between about 1.5 and 1.7% Ag (instant claims, up to 1.62% Ag, '037 claims), between 36 and 38% Pb (instant claims, about 37.7% Pb, '037 claims), and between 60.3 and 62.5% Sn (instant claims, about 61% Sn, '037 claims). Although the amounts are not identical, all of the '037 compositions fall within the ranges of the instant compositions.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that although the amounts are not identical, the ranges overlap and would therefore form the same interconnect material with the same properties.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tanaka et al. (JPN 2001-113387 A, machine translation).

Tanaka teaches an assembled semiconductor device bonded via solder containing 60 to 70% Sn, about 24 to 39% Pb and 0.5 to 3% Ag (abstract and paragraphs 3 and 9).

5. Claims 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tanaka et al. (JPN 2002-086294 A, machine translation).

Tanaka teaches an assembled semiconductor device bonded via solder containing 55 to 70% Sn, about 19 to 44% Pb and 0.5 to 5% Ag (abstract and paragraphs 3 and 34).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

7. As no terminal disclaimer was filed, the double patenting rejection of claim 5 as obvious over Application No. 10/922037 stands.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 8-15 are allowed.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kimoto et al. (USPN 6576971) and Taguchi et al. (USPN 6050480).
